

An aerial photograph of a city, likely Avignon, France, showing a wide river (the Rhône) flowing through the center. A large bridge with multiple arches spans the river. To the right, a dense urban area with many buildings is visible. A large, long boat is docked along the riverbank. The sky is blue with scattered white clouds. A white, irregular line is drawn across the image, separating the top half from the bottom half.

LAST

Atelier du Prof. Emmanuel REY | 2021-2022

RHODANIE URBAINE

Du projet urbain au détail constructif